From the editors desk

Dear members,

hi there once again, as we get into our busy season make sure everything is running ready for showing off. We have a few shows coming up as well as displays too. Coonalpyn and Callington, the Christmas parade and also the truck memorial day.

Our auction proved to be quite the success, again for the club, turning over $41,000 for the day. The auction went over 5 hours with about 1000 lots on offer. The Mccues pie cart also donated quite a substantial amount too. Thanks to all that were involved for the day a very fair effort. Also the shed has some new signage be sure to take a look next time your there. The Christmas show has been set for club and will be held at riverside hotel in Tailem bend. See more in this issue. A great excuse for a car outing don't you think. Santa will also be paying a visit so make sure you let me know if your kids are coming so Santa can bring them an early Christmas present. Anyhow happy restoring and make sure you leave the aircon on for your shed babies.

Nick McCue

Autofest Rockabilly Festival 2015

This years Rockabilly display was put on by the McCue Family Collection. After loading the ute, a tractor and two trailers I had a fair decent display. After three trips to the river front including one with a forklift I was ready to set up. With help from me I had everything setup and was off to borrow fencing from the local engine club. The organizer had put me in a pearler of a spot, under the trees and right next to the toilets and food. After that it was 5:30 and starting to get dark and the end of the day was nigh.

The next morning arrived at 10am and slowly I got things fuelled and running ready for display. I had my 32v Washing machine which created quite a stir, along with the Blackstone with a very large crowd watching on as it started on queue. The John Deere started well and run for most of the day. I was about to shut everything down due to leaving the compound for a toilet break when the Bland family came along and took over the reins.

Walking around there was plenty to see with about 100 cars on display ranging from 1930-1980. music was great and so was the food, a great and relaxing weekend. A hell of a big thankyou to Jim, Jo, Nick, Aj, Emmy and Jack for all your support and help with the weekend and making pack up so much easier. And one last thanks to the local engine club for the use of the fencing. The Mccue family.

Coonalpyn show 2015
